2017 ANNUAL REPORT

CAPE FEAR LITERACY COUNCIL

MISSION:

To provide personalized education so adults
can transform their lives and contribute to a stronger community.

MESSAGE FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR YASMIN TOMKINSON

Dear Friends of Literacy,

Cape Fear Literacy Council (CFLC) was founded on the principle of "Each One Teach One." This means that a person who has the gift of being able to read, speak English, or do math can directly help another learn to do the same. CFLC provides the high-quality training, research-based materials, on-going support, and infrastructure. Last year 176 dedicated volunteers gave their time and talent to help 492 students transform their lives through the power of education.

Each "one" matters. Consider the Adult Literacy student whose life has changed profoundly: "I passed my classes and my exam and got my CNA license. Two years ago, I didn't even think I would graduate high school, and now I'm a Certified Nursing Assistant." Or the ESL volunteer whose world is enriched: "My student is going to every single class you offer that fits with her schedule, in addition to her sessions with me. She's so bright and dedicated! We've been working on idioms, history, and American phrases. She keeps me on my toes. It's incredible."

Each "one" also extends to our supporters. Last year, as we responded to cuts in federal funding, one very generous donor gave us $10,000. That extraordinary donation was a kind of tipping point; it took the pressure off during a challenging time, and then we were bolstered by other individual donations as well as incredible corporate partnerships with Live Oak Bank and the StarNews to end the year very well, after all.

Another "one" of our 647 supporters from last year, the Landfall Foundation, made it possible for CFLC to replace a failing HVAC system and to prevent a serious plumbing problem through a special capital grant. There have been many hot and cold days that we have been particularly grateful for that "one!"

Each and every "one" who is involved in the Literacy Council makes a difference. And together, we are more than the sum of our parts. When we put all of our "ones" together, we have the ability to effect real change in our community for this generation and for those to come.

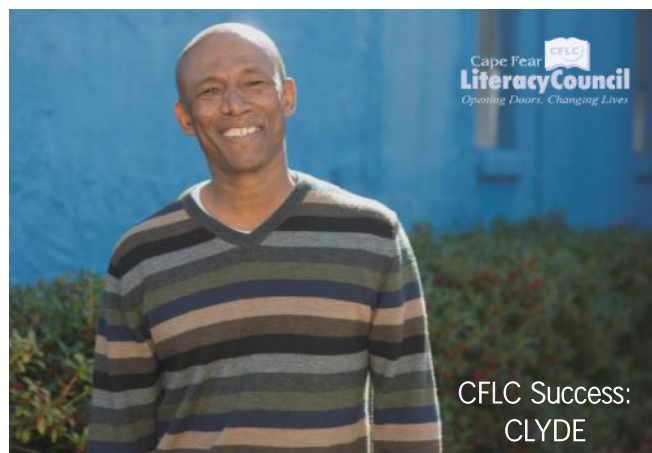

Thank YOU for being part of the good work that we do,

Yasmin Tomkinson
Executive Director

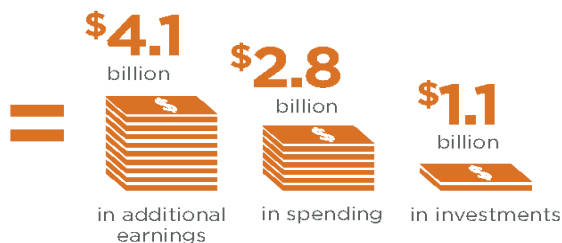

Happy 100th Birthday to
SALLY LENNON, one of CFLC's founders!

MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD PRESIDENT BILL SEWELL

Dear CFLC Supporters,

2017 was quite a year. We entered 2017 facing the loss of a large grant due to changes the grantor had instituted with very little explanation or notice. We took tough measures to reduce expenses and we worked harder to bring in more from other grants, our other fund-raising efforts, and events. We were unwavering in our commitment to CFLC's mission and we were determined to make our organization stronger than ever. AND WE DID IT!

I used the word "we" six times in the paragraph above. So, who are the "we"? They are the incredibly dedicated staff of CFLC who made sacrifices in late 2016 and 2017 due to the loss of the grant, and last year they worked harder than ever. They are the volunteers who give their time, their energy, and talent to tutor, teach, and inspire. They are the donors who give so generously and whom we list in this annual report. Our Executive Director, Yasmin Tomkinson, will thank many of the same folks I thank, but we can't thank them enough!

The "we" includes the anonymous donor who learned of the challenges we were facing and gave a gift of $10,000. The "we" includes our friends at Live Oak Bank who provided a matching grant of $25,000 for our Literacy Luncheon for the second year in a row. The "we" includes the hardworking team of GE employees who spent their weekends building a much-needed storage shed at our CFLC campus.

The "we" includes the fine folks from the StarNews who invited us to team up with them and combine our annual gala with their 150th birthday party. Together, we presented "A Night of Magic," an incredibly fun gala and one of our most successful events ever.

The "we" includes the passionate people who serve on our Board. We owe a special thank you to Craig Snow for the contributions he made during his years on the Board, including two terms as President. We were sad to see Craig go, but our board is as strong as ever; we are thrilled to have added Kelly Sechrist and Christine Santos, two remarkably talented people, to our team.

And the "we" includes our students. They come to CFLC to improve their skills and their lives. Nothing will stop us from being here to support them.

Yes, WE DID IT! Many of you who will read this annual report are among the "we." Thank you! If you're reading this letter and thinking to yourself "Hey, I'm not one of the we," then I invite you to come join us.

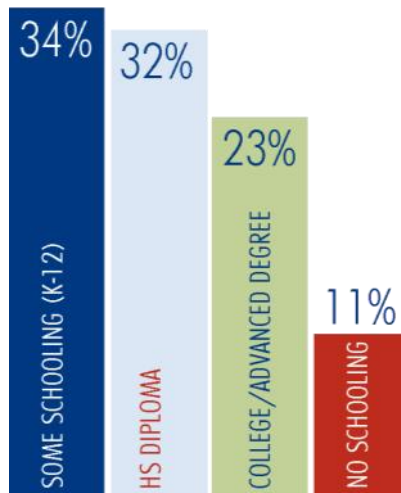

Bill Sewell
Board President

YEAR IN REVIEW— ESL PROGRAM

The English as a Second Language Program offers free English classes and individual tutoring, in person and via Skype, for speakers of other languages. We provide classes at the Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced levels every morning, Monday-Thursday, from 9:30-11:00 am, in addition to evening classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30-8:30 pm. The Citizenship program has been moved to the CFLC site on Sunday afternoons and now includes N-400 preparation and mock interviews, in addition to the history and civics English class.

We have implemented a new curriculum for classroom instructors and we now offer classes focused specifically on listening and writing skills. The program staff has also created several professional development training programs to be launched in 2018. Melanie Nelson is the ESL Program Director, and Lauren Rogers is the ESL Program Assistant. They both joined CFLC as new staff members in April 2017.

ABOUT OUR ESL STUDENTS

ESL Student Educational Levels at Intake

WHAT OUR ESL TUTORS SAY

"We need to teach the English language learners to speak, listen, read and write. The curriculum is designed to encourage all of these modalities through various activities."
 —ESL Classroom Instructor

"All the English I know, I learned from music and watching TV. I have never taken a formal English class before and I was nervous about starting. Thank you for making your classes so comfortable and welcoming. I will be back next session!"

—Advanced ESL Student

The Adult Literacy program offers free and confidential evaluation and tutoring for students who need to improve their reading, writing, math, computer, and/or test-taking skills. Our students range from beginning literacy to those prepping for the GED or entrance exams at CFCC.

The core of our program is one-on-one tutoring, but we also offer small supplemental classes, which broaden students' knowledge base and skill sets, offer valuable opportunities to expand their social interactions, and increase the intensity of their instruction.

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

- 75% of students showed quantitative improvement on post-tests, 59% went up a full Educational Functioning Level (EFL)
- 2 students achieved a diploma, 3 more passed at least one module of the GED
- 3 students passed the CFCC Entrance Exam, 2 received Career Readiness Certifications, and 13 entered community college programs
- 2 students obtained driver's licenses
- 11 students reported voting for the first time (program year runs from 7/1/16 to 6/30/17)

PROFILES IN LITERACY: WHAT MOTIVATES OUR STUDENTS?

Reported Adult Literacy Student Goals

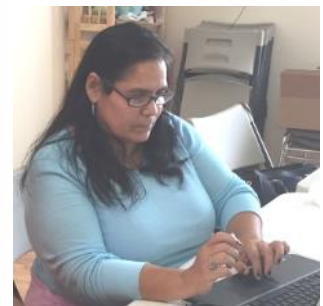

Our students come to us at a variety of levels and with many different goals. One reason CFLC is successful is that we can individually work with a student's real-life goals to produce real-world results, whether that is getting a diploma, getting a job, reading aloud in church, or learning to vote. When a student reports a fundamental change in his/her life as a result of increased educational skills, it is an amazingly rewarding moment for everyone involved.

STUDENTS IN 2017

- We served 169 students who logged a total of 6,263 instructional hours!
- We had 138 active one-on-one pairs and offered 15 small classes
- 86 students were new intakes; 83 were continuing students
- 57 students studied more than 40 hours
- 62% are Black, 30% White, 4% Hispanic, 3% Native American, 1% mixed/other
- 66% do not have a high school diploma; 31% report their long-term goal is the GED/Diploma

Congratulations to Annette on her NEW JOB with Wave Transit!

Annette took full advantage of CFLC's resources and community partnerships in 2017. As well as working with a one-on-one tutor for her academic skills, she participated in our Learn to Earn class and the Bargain Box's Dress to Impress event. She was referred to CFCC's Career Discovery classes, got her Career Readiness Certificate, and took part in the Phoenix Hometown Hires jobs week classes. We are so proud of everything she accomplished!

CORPORATE INVOLVEMENT

Cape Fear Literacy Council is an important community partner – educating workers, parents, neighbors – and we are grateful for businesses that invest in our mission. By supporting adult education, these companies are making a real economic impact.

EVENT SPONSORSHIPS: Each year, we host a Gala, a Literacy Luncheon, and a Spelling Bee. These signature events appeal to diverse audiences, and raise much-needed unrestricted funding for the Literacy Council. Please contact our office to learn more about upcoming events.

ANNUAL PARTNERSHIPS: CFLC seeks for-profit partners that will invest in our programs at a significant level over the course of a year. In return, they will be represented at each of our major events. The chart below illustrates the existing opportunities; we are also able to customize packages based on a company's specific interests.

BECOME A LITERACY COUNCIL SUPPORTER

Your gift provides Cape Fear Literacy Council the necessary resources to continuously support and grow our programs. When you become a Literacy Council Supporter, you gain the satisfaction of knowing that you are making a difference for hundreds of adult learners each and every day! Ways to give include:

CASH GIFTS - Donors may give at any level comfortable to their budget; every bit helps! Donations may be one-time or recurring; our Finance Coordinator can send out an invoice or set up an automatic draw if you prefer.

EMPLOYER MATCHING GIFTS - Your investment in the Cape Fear Literacy Council goes even farther with the employer matching gift program. Ask your human resources department if they have a matching gift program in place. Some employers double – even triple – their employees' contributions. Usually it's as easy as getting a form, completing your portion, and forwarding it on to us. It's that simple – and it makes a big difference!

TRANSFER OF APPRECIATED SECURITIES AND STOCK GIFTS - Donating long-term appreciated securities directly to Cape Fear Literacy Council — rather than selling the assets and donating the cash proceeds — is one of the best and easiest ways to give more. By taking advantage of the applicable tax incentives, you can significantly increase the amount of funds available for charitable giving.

PLANNED GIFTS - please see our "Legacy Gift" section for details on how to build charitable giving into your estate planning.

CAPE FEAR LITERACY COUNCIL'S LEADERSHIP GIVING GROUP

Fortunately you can read this...

There are 30 million Americans and thousands here in Wilmington who cannot.

What is Literacy Trust 100?

It is CFLC's leadership giving group: individuals pledge to give $1,000 annually for 5 years, for a total pledge of $5,000. These unrestricted dollars that CFLC can count on from year-to-year free staff to devote more time and energy to reaching more adults and meeting community needs, and less time seeking dollars from events and other resources.

For the monthly price of dinner and a movie...

For just $83 a month we invite you to extend your leadership role in our community by joining the Literacy Trust 100.

Become a member of Cape Fear Literacy Council's Leadership Giving Group Today!

Call Erin Payne, Director of Fund Development at (910) 251-0911 for more information and to create a personalized leadership gift.

"BECAUSE LITERACY IS A BASIC HUMAN NEED..."

Monica Rolquin is a Wilmington-based attorney and real estate broker. She has served on the Board of Directors of Cape Fear Literacy Council and is a member of the organization's leadership giving group, Literacy Trust 100. Monica's Legacy Gift supports the long-term stability of the Council and allows for educational opportunities for future generations of adult learners.

"I'm passionate about literacy and view it as a basic human need. To me, it made perfect sense to continue to support the Literacy Council with a legacy gift in my will."

To learn more about planned giving and how you can incorporate a Legacy Gift to support the Literacy Council into your will or trust, please call (910) 251-0911 to set up an appointment with our Development Team.

VOLUNTEERS: GET INVOLVED

We Can, Because YOU Do

We ask a lot of our volunteers ... and you always come through. In 2017, our volunteers worked with us to produce several major events, represented us throughout our community to raise awareness, helped complete multiple mailing campaigns, helped us build a new shed ... and so much more! We could not be more appreciative of our incredible volunteers. Each moment you spend giving hands-on support to our organization helps the adults we serve move one step closer to their goals. As our partners in literacy, YOU are a great part of helping our students say, "Now, I can."

FREE ORIENTATION: CFLC 101

Learn more about getting involved by attending one of our free, monthly volunteer orientation sessions, "CFLC 101," in which we describe who we serve and how we do it. Meet our program staff and tour our campus. Call us at 910-251-0911 or visit us online at cfliteracy.org to register for CFLC 101 today!

2018 VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

CORPORATE SERVICE PROJECTS

Co-workers who serve and volunteer together for CFLC projects and events have a great team-building experience. We rely on crews of volunteers to support our three major events, to organize work days to improve our campus and grounds, and facilitating outreach efforts to increase visibility in the community. Are you ready to find a service partnership opportunity for your corporate group? Contact our Volunteer Coordinator today to discuss how your business or corporation can become a CFLC Partner in Literacy.

THE SCOPE AND IMPACT OF LOW LITERACY

In the Cape Fear Region there are more than 60,000 adults whose skills are NOT GOOD ENOUGH to do all they need to do for themselves, their families, their jobs, and the community.

Cape Fear Literacy Council provides free and confidential instruction to adults who have educational goals that are personal, academic, or job-related. Our services include one-on-one tutoring and small classes for Adult Literacy and ESL (English as a Second Language) students seeking to improve their reading, writing, math, and language skills.
