YOUR IMPACT ON CFLC PROGRAMS

STUDENTS

Your Literacy Trust membership allowed us to provide free and confidential instruction to 574 adults in the last program year - that is a 35-year record! The students you have supported have a variety of educational needs; they range from non-readers or those with limited English language skills, to those who need just to brush up in specific areas - like computer skills, job-related training, or pronunciation. Your commitment supported the 14,000+ hours our students invested in their education! And they created results: 9 out of 10 students with sufficient hours made measureable progress in 2020.

“Since the quarantine, I’ve enrolled in an online program to become a medical interpreter! My one-on-one tutor helps me a lot with my homework [for that course] and my confidence in speaking up.”

TUTORS

Did you know that your annual Literacy Trust gift supported 202 volunteer tutors in the 2020 program year? Another fun fact - 30% of your fellow Literacy Trust Members are/were tutors. What a gift they all are to our students and organization! Our volunteer tutors are committed to our students - they complete 9-12 hours of accredited tutor training, and typically log 2 sessions per week of either 1-on-1 tutoring or small group class instruction. Tutors utilize a multi-sensory approach to make content relevant to students’ real lives and they provide instruction in a variety of coursework - Reading & Writing, English as a Second Language (ESL), Math, Test Prep, US Citizenship, and Digital Literacy. Our 2021 Tutor Trainings are now fully-digital.

“So many of the students I had over the years with Cape Fear Literacy Council impressed me with their compassion and intelligence. It means a lot to me to be able to continue with CFLC. My life is enriched by them even if we only meet on Zoom.”

Below you will find a very brief snapshot of some of the 'wins' our students achieved in the program year ending June 30, 2020. There will be more in-depth coverage in future editions - so stay tuned!

ADULT LITERACY: The Adult Literacy program was able to serve students by in-person appointments and virtually; and 98% with sufficient hours reported positive life changes or increased independence.

ESL: Even through the pandemic, this program served students from 44 countries and hours of instruction greatly increased: students had an average of 41.6 hours/student vs. 29 hours/student the previous year.

DIGITAL LITERACY: Even with the pandemic-based hiatus of the Computers on Wheels (COWs) program, 179 students increased their computer skills.

US CITIZENSHIP: 32 students became US Citizens – doubling the previous year’s outcome (for the second year in a row!)

“My student has had a stroke and due to health issues, does not want to meet in person, but we’ve been able to keep up with his studies just fine with FaceTime. He is doing great, and making rapid improvements with his vocabulary and spelling.”

PROGRAMS

Your Literacy Trust investment was especially important in 2020, as it helped us to expand our literacy reach beyond the walls of CFLC with the following community-based programs:

EMPLOYER-SPONSORED ESL PROGRAMS: CFLC partnered with Johnson's Nursery in a fee-based pilot program; a tailored, on-site, ESL training program for their employees hoping to gain stronger English language skills. Coursework incorporated traditional ESL training with specialized training in nursery-specific vocabulary and concepts.

BRIDGING THE DIGITAL DIVIDE: During the pandemic, CFLC partnered with the Good Shepherd Center during the pandemic to assist shelter residents with the technology and necessary to apply for CARES Act Relief Funds.

CULTURAL COMPETENCY TRAININGS: Over the past few years, CFLC has partnered with NHRMC, Communities In Schools, and the NHC Senior Resource Center to provide accredited professional development workshops designed to enable social service providers, healthcare workers, and professionals to have more effective communication with the ESL populations that they serve.

[From a Communities in Schools leader, after attending the cultural competency course in order to communicate with students' parents]

It's amazing! The parents are calling us directly – and we don't speak Spanish – but they are calling so that they can join the class. I'm pretty sure we'll need two classes with all the interest we're getting.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

NEW LITERACY TRUST INITIATIVE

The new year brings a number of exciting changes to the Literacy Trust—including a change in the offerings for membership to this leadership giving group. After receiving feedback from dedicated supporters that they would be honored to be a part of this elite group of donors, but felt that a $1,000 annual commitment for a 5-year period was out of their reach, the Literacy Council sought to create a proactive and inclusive solution.

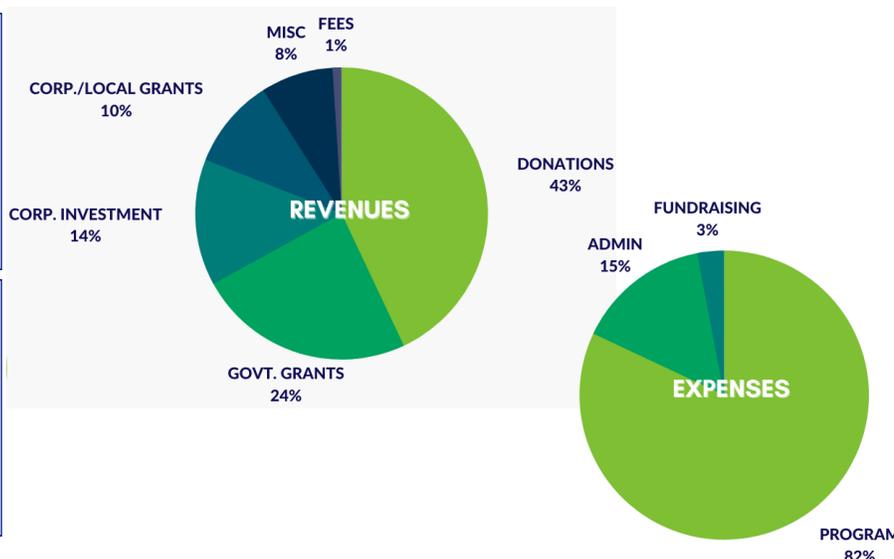

We are proud to announce a new tiered-membership system for the Literacy Trust, effective this January, that widens the leadership circle to include a Silver Level ($500 annually for a 5-year commitment), Gold Level ($1,000 annually for a 5-year commitment—and the level where all current Literacy Trust members commit their support), and a Platinum Level ($2,500 annually for a 5-year commitment).

GETTING TO KNOW THE LITERACY TRUST MEMBERS

Meet Tammy Arnold and Dana Jaunzemis....

Tammy is an actress in film and television, most recently seen in the Netflix series Ozark. Dana is a lifelong entrepreneur who enjoys growing small businesses. Tammy and Dana have called Wilmington home for thirty years. Their favorite vacation is hitting the open road in their camper and visiting National Parks.

*Tammy Arnold
Dana Jaunzemis*

A little-known fact about Dana and Tammy....

Early in their careers, Dana was a truck driver crossing the country in an 18-wheeler, while Tammy was a clown and a mime.

Why the Literacy Trust is important to us....

Reading changed our lives. Books taught us to think outside of the box and pursue creative careers. We want everyone to have that opportunity. CFLC excels at providing those opportunities. A secure financial foundation means more time on literacy and less on fundraising which is why we are proud to be part of the Literacy Trust 100 and pledge our support.

If you could share a meal with any 4 people....

Lucille Ball, Carol Burnett, Gilda Radner, and Betty White

Marcia Morgan

Meet Marcia Morgan....

I have taught the gamut of ages and in a variety of schools from Head Start, to public middle school, Undergraduate courses at The Ohio State University and University of California at Berkeley, and was on faculty at Smith College's Graduate Program. When I enlisted in the Army, I was one of three people with a Ph.D. to do so at the time. I was later commissioned and retired as a Colonel after 25 years. Although I really enjoy playing sports, my body has taken a beating through the years so my main hobby now is building or making things around the house. I really enjoy working with wood.

A little-known fact about Marcia....

I enjoy kayaking but have never mastered getting out, so I typically roll over and fall out!

Why the Literacy Trust is important to me....

As an educator, I am convinced that strengthening education will help us solve a number of problems. The Literacy Trust provides that helping hand needed to teach people of all ages, which in turn opens the door to that better education. Each year, I am blown away by the pride and sense of accomplishment that emanates from the success stories that are shared at your Luncheons. It is an honor to be a part of that effort in a small way.

If you could share a meal with any 4 people....

Jesus, Hillary Clinton, Michelle Obama, and Grace Murray Hopper
